

Post #1

Being a good leader starts with being a good listener. You can't guide others until you learn how to hear and see your team and recognize their needs.

Post #2

George S. Patton said, "Don't tell people how to do things, tell them what to do and let them surprise you with their results." Give your team the tools to apply to their work. Let people learn by DOING and don't micromanage.

Post #3

It can be tempting to read how-to books and then feel that you have all the knowledge. But the real knowledge of leadership comes from learning and then applying your knowledge. Make sure that you are practicing what you preach.

Post #4

Looking for REAL practical advice on how to succeed at management? Do you feel like something is lacking in your leadership style?

There's hope! Click here to learn more about how to become a dynamic leader today (insert a link to website/course)

Post #5

Everyone has that story. Yup, the one with a disgruntled employee, or the one where there was a team player that missed out on the "team" part.

Share your worst management experience in the comments below!

Post #6

Communication is key. If you can't communicate what your expectations are to your team then they wouldn't be able to successfully carry out their jobs.

Post #7

It's the trickle-down effect.

"The way management treats associates is exactly how the associates will treat the customers."

Sam Walton

Post #8

#motivationalmonday! It's the beginning of a new week and you've got this! The best way to start the week out is to call a meeting and touch base with your team before starting the workday!

Post #9

Don't be discouraged if you feel like you are failing at management. You can only implement change if you first recognize that there is a problem.

Only when you know that you are failing do you then have the power to succeed!

Post #10

#motivationalmonday

“True leadership stems from individuality that is honest and sometimes imperfectly expressed...Leaders should strive for authenticity over perfection.”

Sheryl Sandberg

IMPORTANT:

This written material has been prepared based on sources which you provided. Neither Flocksy or the creative who wrote the copy makes any claims whatsoever as to the accuracy of the information contained within, and they are not responsible for any legal or financial difficulty resulting from the use of this written material. We encourage you to review it thoroughly before disseminating it or using it in trade.

SOURCES USED:

<https://www.facebook.com/agcassociates/>