

Lita P washable silk has been my number one staple wardrobe piece during my Shelter in Place

During this time of social distancing, I've been spending a lot of time indoors. I've been working from home, mainly eating from home, exercising from home, and basically living my life from home.

From what I see around social media, it's tempting to want to toss on that grungy old sweatshirt every day. But I haven't been.

What's my secret? How do I stay cozy, looking pulled together and, dare I say, sexy, every day?

It's all thanks to Lita P washable silk.

I love silk. It's sleek, soft, protects against hair breakage (if you're thinking of investing in silk pillowcase GO FOR IT) and above all, it looks stunning.

Each day, instead of grabbing my sweats and an old tee-shirt, I slip into one of my silk pieces from Lita P and instantly feel like a goddess.

What do I love best? It's not the way that it makes me feel (that's pretty good though), and it's not the way that it makes me look (that's pretty good too though), but it's the fact that I can still do all the things. That's right. Walk the dogs, play with the kids, work my job remotely, make food, lay in bed, and even clean the house!

How do I do all that in SILK, you ask?

Because Lita P silk is WASHABLE. Yup. I never worry about what happens to it, because I know that at the end of the day it's as easy as 1,2,3 to get clean again, should some mishap take place while I'm wearing it.

Honestly, when I'm back to work again I may just miss Sheltering in Place....

UNLESS.

Do you think they'd let me wear my silk to the office?

Just a thought...
