Industrial and Oilfield Electricians

Our Oilfield Electrical Services in Grand Prairie

We offer a wide range of electrical services for oilfields in and around Grand Prairie. When you need a group of talented electromechanical engineers and service technicians who can provide on-time, on-site electrical expertise, we've got your back. We've got experts in precision logic controllers, controls and automation, compressors, and nodes to cover the range of issues that you may experience.

When it's time to replace your platform, our experts are well-versed in all of the major programmable logic platforms and industry standards and are up-to-date with training from the major manufacturing groups. We work hard to stay on top of the latest trends in ladder logic development.

Our Industrial Electrical Services in Grande Prairie

Our electricians are also experts in a wide range of industrial electrical services to keep you up and running. When it comes to sawmill and pulp mill maintenance, our electricians can provide creative solutions that can extend the life of your machinery, add efficiency to your operations, and minimize downtime and production costs. We understand the unique challenges that come with servicing electrical equipment in these environments. High humidity, high heat, and harsh chemicals can corrode machinery and shorten the life of electrical components.

We also provide high-quality manufacturing and automation services to all industries. When you contract GP Electric for your manufacturing and automation job, we promise seamless, innovative service that ensures the reliability and safety for all the software solutions we deliver - from programming and design through modifications for your products.

Instrumentation Services in Grand Prairie

Our electrical and instrumentation services run the gamut from design to execution, service to maintenance. We create customized maintenance and inspection programs to reduce operational costs and downtime while maximizing efficiency. We cover the complete instrument and control technical spectrum: the total loop from PLC/SCADA to the field components.
